International Trade and Law: FIATA Issues Legal & Insurance Guidance Amid Middle East Tensions

Escalating tensions in the Middle East are disrupting maritime traffic through the Strait of Hormuz and affecting regional airspace, with direct consequences for transit times, freight rates, and insurance conditions worldwide.

In response, FIATA with its Advisory Body on Legal Matters has released a dedicated briefing: Middle East Security Situation – Contractual and Insurance Considerations for Freight Forwarders.

The guidance covers carrier contractual rights, recovery of additional costs and surcharges, force majeure provisions, insurance gaps, and practical risk-management measures, including a checklist for immediate action.

The situation is evolving rapidly. FIATA strongly encourages all members to review the briefing, assess the impact on current and upcoming shipments, and communicate proactively with customers.

International Trade and Law: Update - Developments in US IEEPA Tariff Refund Process

Recent court proceedings in the United States are shaping the process for refunding tariffs imposed under the International Emergency Economic Powers Act (IEEPA). In filings before the United States Court of International Trade, U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) indicated that more than 330,000 importers paid IEEPA duties across over 53 million import entries, representing approximately USD 166 billion. CBP stated that processing refunds entry-by-entry would require significant manual work and that the agency is therefore developing new functionality in the Automated Commercial Environment (ACE) to issue refunds on a consolidated importer basis.

CBP has indicated that this functionality could be implemented within approximately 45 days, subject to court oversight. The court has temporarily paused the requirement for immediate refunds while this mechanism is developed and requested an update from the government on 12 March 2026.

Refunds are expected to be issued to the importer of record. Freight forwarders and customs brokers may receive inquiries from clients regarding the potential refunds and should monitor further guidance from CBP and the court.
